

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A catheter has a lumen for a thrombectomy device and at least two balloons of different compliances. In one embodiment, the catheter is adapted to clear dialysis grafts. One balloon is adapted to expand a stenosis at a venous junction of a dialysis graft and another balloon is adapted to expand a stenosis at an arterial junction of a dialysis graft.

A method of performing a dialysis thrombectomy procedure using a single catheter.